THE COUNTY OF VENTURA

Ventura County is located on California’s “Gold Coast,” approximately 35 miles northwest of Los Angeles and 20 miles southeast of Santa Barbara. It is the 26th largest county out of 58 in the State of California and has a beautiful, temperate climate. Its landmass rises from sea level to 8,831 feet at Mt. Pinos in the Los Padres National Forest. At certain times of the year, it is possible to stand on the beach and see snow in the mountains. The mild Mediterranean climate, along with scenic geography, makes the area attractive to the more than 800,000 culturally and ethnically diverse people who call Ventura County home. The unincorporated areas – along with the ten incorporated cities of Camarillo, Fillmore, Moorpark, Ojai, Oxnard, Port Hueneme, Santa Paula, Simi Valley, Thousand Oaks, and San Buenaventura (Ventura) – rank Ventura as the 13th most populous county in the State.

The County is supported by a total budget of approximately $2.7 billion and more than 9,500 allocated FTEs in 26 agencies/departments. The County provides a broad variety of services from 26 different departments and agencies that include safety and social services, healthcare, airports, harbor, resource management, parks, information technology, and public works. There are six elected department heads in addition to the Board of Supervisors: Assessor, Auditor-Controller, Clerk-Recorder/Registrar of Voters, District Attorney, Sheriff, and Treasurer-Tax Collector.

The Superior Court of California, County of Ventura has 30 judges, 4 commissioners, and a staff of approximately 370 employees with an annual budget of $62 million. The court has five operational areas: Criminal and Traffic; Juvenile, Civil and Small Claims, Family Law and Probate.
With an annual operating budget of nearly $78 million and 445 budgeted positions, VCPA conducts its work in the courtroom, community, and juvenile facilities.

The Agency is comprised of four bureaus:

ADULT SERVICES BUREAU – This Bureau consists of Adult Field Services, Adult Safety Realignment, Adult Detention Alternative Programs, and Adult Court Services. These divisions perform specialized functions supervising more than 8,400 adults each year and participate in over 13,000 court actions. Services include pre-sentence investigation reports, pretrial evaluations, risk and needs assessments, work release, and probation and post release supervision.

JUVENILE SERVICES BUREAU – This Bureau comprised of three divisions: Juvenile Field Services, Juvenile Court Services, and Juvenile Facilities. The Bureau focuses on prevention, diversion, youth and family support services, treatment, and community supervision. It oversees programs for over 600 youth each year and participates in 2,700 court actions. The Juvenile Field Services Division manages citations, operates several specialty programs, administers risk and needs assessments, develops individualized and comprehensive case plans, and supervises in the community youth who are at moderate to high risk of recidivism. The Juvenile Court Services Division provides intake and investigative reports to the Court, operates an electronic monitoring program, and coordinates the placement of youth with high needs. The Juvenile Facilities house youth and young adults pending Juvenile Court proceedings and/or custody commitments and offer rehabilitative treatment pending their release back into the community.

Two other bureaus, consisting primarily of civilian staff, provide essential services to support VCPA and its employees. THE ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES BUREAU includes the Professional Standards Unit, which conducts pre-employment background investigations and internal investigations on both peace officers and civilian staff. This bureau also includes Clerical Support, the Custodian of Records, Agency Courier Services, Human Resources, Labor Relations, and Staff Training. THE BUSINESS SERVICES BUREAU oversees Fiscal, Information Technology, and Strategic Management. This bureau has the immense responsibility of ensuring that all Agency staff have the resources and tools to perform their work effectively and efficiently.

As the field of corrections has evolved, so have the needs of the County’s offenders and the community. To service these needs, VCPA has introduced scientific, evidence-based programming to its supervision model, including individual and family counseling, job training and readiness, anger management, risk and need assessments, and substance abuse intervention in an effort to maximize a probationer’s successful transition back to the community. If these services prove unsuccessful and incarceration is warranted, the Agency operates and provides programming through the Juvenile Facilities in Oxnard and through jail alternatives which include an Adult Resource and Reporting Center and Work Release.
THE OPPORTUNITY AND IDEAL CANDIDATE

Reporting directly to the Chief Probation Officer, the Chief Deputy Probation Officer assists in the planning, organization, and supervision of one of the major program functions of the Probation Agency. Additionally, this position is responsible for exercising direct responsibility for the coordination of activities and planning of an assigned program function as well as directs the activities of the program Division Managers. This position may serve as the Chief Probation Officer in their absence.

The Chief Deputy Probation Officer will be assigned to one of the four bureaus within the agency to provide leadership, strategy, vision and act as a steward of their responsible bureau which may contain both armed and unarmed personnel. The Chief Deputy will need to serve as a mentor and coach to division managers and subordinates to further promote the goals and objectives of the Agency as part of its strategic plan. This position will also be a collaborative and engaging partner to other stakeholders and partnering agencies including the Superior Courts, Public Defender, District Attorney as well as community based organizations. The Chief Deputy assists the agency and Chief Probation Officer in formulating Agency policy, programs, procedures along with advising and making major decisions in matters that affect the Agency; moreover, this individual must stay abreast of new and changing legislation that impacts the Agency, operations and stakeholders. A clear and distinctive focus of the position and of the agency is on rehabilitative efforts for offenders and utilizing evidence-based practices as opposed to imparting punitive action as a means to correct present and future behavior.

The ideal candidate will be a seasoned, innovative and engaging leader with a passion for the criminal justice system and have a vision for making a beneficial and lasting impact in helping to modernize the Probation Agency’s practices, operations, and methodologies. The ideal candidate will be a seasoned corrections and probation services professional with demonstrated experience in increasingly progressive roles that include considerable managerial and leadership experience. This individual will foster trust among employees, peers, and collaborative partners; build, establish and maintain solid relationships both internally and within the community; hold their individual self and others accountable for results and actions; demonstrate superb communication and presentation skills; act as a team player and collaborator; and is innovative, enthusiastic and eager to bring forth ideas, recommendations and actions that are progressive and beneficial to the Agency and its stakeholders.

Chief Deputy Probation Officer is an at-will classification which is exempt from the provisions of the Civil Service Ordinance.

QUALIFICATIONS

The required knowledge, skills and abilities can be obtained by:

A) Possession of either a high school diploma or a General Education (GED) certificate AND ten (10) years extensive experience in the probation, correctional and/or institutional fields which has led to the acquisition of the required knowledge, skills and abilities, five (5) of which must have been in a management classification in an agency similar to the Ventura County Probation Agency.

B) An Associate of Arts degree* or sixty (60) units of academically oriented coursework* AND eight (8) years of increasingly responsible corrections work experience, five (5) of which must have been in a management classification in an agency similar to the Ventura County Probation Agency.

C) A Bachelor’s degree* (preferably in behavioral science, social science, psychology, sociology, criminology, or a related field) AND six (6) years of increasingly responsible probation corrections work experience, five (5) of which must have been in a management classification in an agency similar to the Ventura County Probation Agency.

*College degrees and coursework must have been attained/earned at an accredited college or university.

NECESSARY SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

The Chief Deputy is a Peace Officer pursuant to Sections 830 and 830.5 of the Penal Code and Sections 1029, 1031, and 1031.5 of the Government Code and must meet all of the minimum standards contained therein.
