The focus of the Clean/Green Committee is on jobs and training that support environmentally sustainable business practices and legal compliance through; recycling or reuse of existing materials, water conservation, energy efficiency through construction, installation and maintenance; natural and sustainable product manufacturing, renewable energy and education compliance and awareness. The Committee reviewed the Two-Year Plan and the Year-End Review and discussed how to create value, who else we will need at the table and how the Committee can connect with educators to add sustainability into the curriculum. Using CTE Advisory Committees to incorporate the need for sustainability into their programs was mentioned. Victor Dollar brought up how the hospitality industry has recognized that incorporating green practices attracts more business. It was discussed that studies have shown that many employees want to work for companies that have incorporated social responsibility and that employers seek employees with knowledge of sustainable business practices. The suggestion to send out a survey to businesses was discussed and a workgroup was formed to develop a survey to determine if local businesses include a knowledge of sustainability as a factor when hiring. The Committee members developed a list of industries they would like to have represented on the Committee.
